Because you care about your care

You can plan now for the level of care and comfort you deserve in case of an accident or illness that requires assistance and care during recovery.

Expecting the unexpected

Whether you are working or retired, it's important to consider the cost of health care and how an unexpected accident or illness could impact you and your family's finances. Even those who lead a healthy lifestyle may be at risk of experiencing an unexpected need for recovery care due to the onset of health issues and disabilities.

At least 70% of people over 65 will need long-term care services and support at some point.¹

Health care is constantly changing and the costs are increasing

Hospital confinement is expensive, sometimes resulting in shorter hospital stays followed by costly rehabilitation and therapy. Skilled nursing facilities (nursing homes) provide another option for recovery and care, offering a wide range of medical, health, and personal care services.

The average cost of a private room at a skilled nursing facility is nearly $112,000/year and is projected to be over $141,000/year by 2030.¹

Assisted living facilities provide yet another option for those who need limited help with daily care and are ideal for socialization activities to help prevent isolation and withdrawal.

The average cost of a one bedroom at an assisted living facility is over $55,000/year and is projected to be over $70,000/year by 2030.¹

Every 65 seconds someone is diagnosed with dementia or Alzheimer's disease. 12.7 million people age 65 and older will have Alzheimer's by 2050.¹

Freedom to choose

Who would choose the hospital or facility for your recovery and care if needed? Just the thought of being in unfamiliar surroundings may be uncomfortable. But an accident or illness may leave you with no other choice for receiving care.

Your choice of solutions

A Recovery Care insurance plan gives you the freedom to choose how you want to receive care and recover, along with where. You choose the hospital or nursing facility based on the insurance plan options selected. Benefits are paid directly to you, or a medical provider that you designate, and are paid in addition to any other health care coverage.

More to consider

It's important to know and understand your health insurance coverage before you need to use it. And we can help. Here's a simple look at the importance of our Recovery Care insurance plans.

Place of recovery and care	Medicare coverage*	Recovery Care coverage
Nursing Facility	Medicare pays the first 20 days of skilled care only if admitted as an inpatient for at least 3 days. It does not pay for intermediate or custodial care.	The Daily Nursing Facility coverage will pay benefits for all levels of nursing facility care: skilled, intermediate, and custodial. The nursing facility does not have to be approved by Medicare.
Assisted Living Facility	Medicare does not pay for any services or costs.	The Daily Nursing Facility coverage will pay benefits for services in an assisted living facility.
Home	Medicare pays for eligible home care services like intermittent skilled nursing with doctor's orders. It does not pay for 24 hours/day for care at home.	The optional Home Care Rider will pay a weekly benefit for home care. The home care agency does not have to be approved by Medicare.

* This coverage will pay if the insured cannot perform two or more activities of daily living (ADL) or has a cognitive impairment.

 This coverage will pay if the insured cannot perform two or more ADL or has a cognitive impairment; and receives three weekly one-hour home care agency visits on separate days.

Policy definitions

Activities of daily living (ADL)

Basic activities necessary for independent living at home: bathing, toileting, continence, dressing, eating and mobility.

Cognitive impairment

The loss of degenerative mental ability to a degree that requires constant care for protection of self or others, as diagnosed by a licensed physician.

Confined/confinement

The insured is formally admitted to a nursing facility, assisted living facility, or a hospital on an inpatient basis or receives necessary and continuous observation in a hospital for at least 24 hours.

Home care services

The professional, personal care, and homemaker services the insured receives from a home care provider in the insured's home, including nursing care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, nutritionist services, meal preparation, laundry, light housekeeping, shopping for food, medications or medical supplies, and transportation to and from appointments.

Nursing facility

A place which is a separate facility or distinct part of a health care facility which is licensed as a nursing home and provides continuous accommodations to persons who require daily nursing care services, and maintains records of each resident.

Period of care (hospital benefit)

The period of time that begins with the first day of hospital confinement due to a covered illness or injury. It ends when the insured is out of the hospital and does not require medical care for 60 continuous days.

Period of care (nursing facility benefit)

The period of time that begins with the first day of nursing facility or assisted living facility confinement. It ends following a period of 180 days during all of which the insured is not confined to a nursing facility or assisted living facility, is able to perform five or more ADL without the hands-on assistance of another person; and if the insured is cognitively impaired, the insured did not require or receive the assistance or supervision of another person.
